

HALLSVILLE NEWS & VIEWS

Dear Fellow Citizens of Hallsville,

I am honored to be your new Mayor. It is with immense pride and a profound sense of responsibility that I step into this position, ready to serve our community with all my heart and experience.

Having spent the better part of my life right here in Hallsville, I have witnessed our town's evolution firsthand. As a CPA with nearly three decades of experience in finance, I have developed a keen understanding of budgeting, resource management, financial planning, and strategic decision-making. I currently serve as the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) for Missouri Electric Cooperatives in Jefferson City. My prior experience in both public and private accounting has equipped me with the skills and insights necessary to navigate complex fiscal challenges.

But beyond my professional endeavors, my roots run deep in Hallsville. My parents, Larry and Karen Moore, chose our town in which to raise their children over fifty years ago. I am a proud graduate of our local schools and the University of Missouri - Columbia. My husband, Chris, is a local home builder and realtor, and we have four wonderful adult children who continue to make us proud every day.

My passion for our town's success is unwavering. I am committed to identifying new revenue opportunities, managing our resources wisely, and making decisions that prioritize the well-being of our residents. I believe in a Hallsville that flourishes while retaining its unique charm and sense of community.

As I begin this journey as your Mayor, I ask for your support, your ideas, and your trust. Together, let's work towards a future where Hallsville shines brighter than ever before.

With warmest regards,
Kate Boatright
